TICK YES ON YOUR INCOMING PASSENGER CARD

Before landing in Australia passengers are given an Incoming Passenger Card to fill in. This is a legal document. You must tick YES to declare if you are carrying any food, plant material or animal products. If you have items you don't wish to declare, you can dispose of them in quarantine bins in the airport terminal.

Every piece of luggage is now x-rayed or screened. If you fail to declare or dispose of any quarantine items, or make a false declaration:

- you will get caught;
- you could be fined over $200 on-the-spot; or
- you could be prosecuted and fined up to $60,000 and risk 10 years imprisonment.

WHAT HAPPENS TO ITEMS I DECLARE?

Prohibited items will be seized and destroyed by AQIS. In many cases the goods you declare will be returned to you after inspection. However, any item that presents a disease risk or is found to contain insects or larvae will be withheld. You will be given a range of options for the item depending on the quarantine risk:

- treating the item to make it safe (for example fumigation, irradiation)*;
- holding the item until an import permit is presented*;
- storing the item at the airport for collection when you leave Australia*;
- $\boldsymbol{\cdot}$  re-exporting the item\*; and
- destroying the item.

AQIS makes every effort to minimise the risk of damage but does not accept liability for damage that may occur as a result of treatment.

*These treatments are subject to fees.

QUARANTINE DETECTOR DOGS

You may see a quarantine detector dog at the baggage carousel. They're screening luggage for food, plant material or animal products of quarantine concern. If you see a detector dog working close to you, please place your bags on the floor for inspection. Sometimes dogs will sit next to your bag if it sniffs a target odour. Sometimes dogs will detect odours left from food you have had in the bag previously. A quarantine officer may ask about the contents of your bag and check you are not carrying items that present a quarantine risk to Australia.
